Big Three Reach Accord On German Peace Pact

Liberal Terms Hinted In Western Settlement

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Big Three foreign ministers reached final agreement tonight on terms of a "peace contract" proposal to bring Western Germany into the free world defense line-up.

American, British and French high commissioners will be instructed to negotiate with the West German government for a post-war settlement which provides:

1. Virtually complete independence for the West German regime in foreign policy and domestic matters.

2. Abolition of the present Allied three-power high commission and substitution of ambassadors.

3. Changing of the status of occupation troops to defense forces.

With the settlement of the German question agreed to, the British, American and French foreign ministers turned to other problems.

An informed official who disclosed the Big Three agreement on Germany said a formal joint communique will be issued tomorrow to announce actions taken by the foreign ministers on Germany and other key cold war problems.

MEET AGAIN

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U.S., Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison of Britain and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France are to meet again tomorrow for the seventh time since their conference began Wednesday.

Officials described the peace contract as liberal, but said the Allies intend to preserve some powers.

These would include the right to step into German affairs if Communism threatens to overthrow the new West German Republic, either by a domestic coup or outside aggression.

Officials who reported on discussions so far after a 90-minute night session, said the ministers also discussed these issues today:

1. Possible arrangements to speed up a peace treaty for Austria.

2. Italy's plea for drastic changes in its 1947 peace treaty to open the way for fuller rearmament.

3. American negotiations with Franco Spain which are aimed at obtaining military bases needed for Western European defense.

Although behind schedule in their talks, the three ministers nevertheless hoped to wind up their five-day conference with a formal joint announcement of their decisions tomorrow.

Afterward, accompanied by their finance ministers, they are to fly to Ottawa for a special meeting of the 12-country North Atlantic Pact council opening Saturday.

Generally, diplomats connected with the conference describe the proposed settlement with Western Germany as "very generous."

Mr. Morrison dropped a hint about the liberal features of the settlement during a speech today at a National Press Club luncheon.

"I've got a bias in favor of liberal peace treaties," he said. "On balance, they are most likely to be conducive to the peace of the world."

Mr. Morrison vigorously defended Britain's right to trade with the Communist block, saying it was a "matter of life and death" to Britain.

Four Records

Four world air records for speed of climb have been claimed for Britain by a Hawker Siddeley Sapphire Meteor piloted by Flight Lieutenant R. B. Prickett. In addition to reaching 12,000 metres in three minutes, seven seconds, the records for 3,000, 6,000 and 9,000 metres were broken at the same time. Pilot Prickett is seen, standing by his record-breaking craft which has pressurized cabin, enabling the pilot to fly in an ordinary lounge suit. Only item of flying equipment he used is a helmet. Would Restore Unity

HALIFAX, Sept. 13 (CP)—A move to restore the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada's policy of continuing co-operation with other central labor bodies—discarded by the T.L.C. only two days ago, came before its convention today but consideration of it was slowed up.

The proposal was still in abeyance at the day's adjournment; and prospects were it would come up again tomorrow.

Two days ago, the congress voted to break off from a continuing national committee on co-operation with the other big labor bodies. The committee, a major step in the direction of labor unity, was set up six months ago.

On it were representatives of the 500,000-member T.L.C., the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor, the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor, with 90,000 members, and the independent railway brotherhoods, which have 40,000 members in Canada.

Decision of the congress to make the split Tuesday came on a close voice vote, with some delegates expressing doubt that the breakaway proposal actually had carried.

Since then, a number of delegates have expressed the opinion privately that the proposal was dropped into the convention by its leaders without enough warning to let rank-and-file delegates consider it sufficiently before a vote was taken about an hour later.

"Today, a couple of delegates tried to get the reconsideration proposal before the convention at the start of the afternoon session, but it was deferred in favor of the annual election of officers. After that the convention broke off early because of the T.L.C.'s annual banquet tonight.

In the elections, veteran president Percy Bengough, a Vancouver machinist, was returned to office for the ninth straight time, getting an acclamation.

Expert to Check Point Ellice Span

By T. A. MYERS

One of B.C.'s foremost bridge builders probably will be hired to find some way to strengthen the unsafe Point Ellice Bridge.

City council will be asked at a special session next week to provide $3,000 for a new inspection of the bridge.

This decision was made late yesterday at a special meeting of council's public works committee.

The committee wants to employ A. L. Carruthers, consulting engineer to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and former deputy minister of the provincial public works department, to examine the span.

Council is expected to approve the appropriation.

Mr. Carruthers will be asked:

How safe is the bridge?

Can it be "rehabilitated?"

If so, how much will rehabilitation cost?

The city hopes to be able to strengthen the new bridge sufficiently to remove the 10-mile-an-hour, 14-ton speed and load limits.

Plans for a new bridge have been shelved since aldermen learned it might cost as much as $900,000, instead of the $150,000 originally estimated.

Money for the inspection might come from the city's shrinking contingency fund, or from a special $50,000 account set up to pay for plans for a new bridge, ordered from Vancouver consultant Major J. R. Grant.

FAVORS SURVEY

Major Grant is believed to favor Mr. Carruthers' survey, and he and city engineer Cyril Jones will provide all available data on the present span.

Mr. Carruthers has built several bridges on the island, and is now working on the big Cottonwood Canyon bridge in the Cariboo.

The inspection job might take a month.

Ald. Dr. D. J. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee, said yesterday he was "very unhappy about the lack of action on the bridge. I think it's time we did something."

Ald. F. B. Scurrah proposed the motion asking council for $3,000.

"We don't want to wait a week next Tuesday (date of council's next regular meeting)," said Dr. Hunter. "We'll try to arrange a special meeting for next Monday afternoon."

Ald. M. H. Mooney summed up the feeling of the meeting: "Sure, let's get cracking."

Well-Trained Corps Seeking Defense Role

By BRIAN LOUGHNAN

A quiet group of smartly-uniformed volunteers who have been training in Victoria and Sidney since May 1 will shortly offer their services to the government in hopes that their corps will become the nucleus of a real, down-to-earth civil defense plan in this area.

Thirty graduates of the Medical Cadet Corps formed by Seventh-Day Adventists stand ready to assist in civil defense work as a unit or as individual instructors.

The corps, only one of its kind in B.C., is under command of E. M. Peterson, who holds lieutenant's rank in the M.C.C. B.C. headquarters are at Mission.

ONE OF FOUR GROUPS

The Sidney-Victoria corps is one of four in Canada under Seventh-Day Adventist North American headquarters at Lincoln, Nebraska. The other Canadian corps are located at Oshawa, Ont., Lacombe, Alta., and Saskatoon, Sask.

Each corpsman undertakes 110 hours of training over a two-month period and graduates receive Red Cross first aid pins.

Seventh-Day Adventists recently petitioned the Department of National Defense for official standing in connection with the armed forces. Corpsmen believe in non-combatancy and will not carry arms but are willing to give medical aid and serve as stretcher bearers in the front lines or in any combat zone.

In the United States, M.C.C. graduates are enrolled in the armed forces on finishing training. Twelve thousand Seventh-Day Adventist corpsmen served in the U.S. army during the last war.

The uniform of the M.C.C. men which they purchase themselves, consists of light grey shirt, dark grey trousers, black beret, brown shoes, black tie and a colorful sleeve badge. Corpsmen wear a gold "MCC" pin on each side of their shirt collars and a cloth badge on their berets.

VARIED TRAINING

Training is basic field first aid work, and includes lectures on atomic warfare and its bearing on civilian areas; field training in bivouacs; 30 hours drill without arms; hygiene and sanitation, medical aspects of chemical warfare, military courtesy and customs and military justice, physical training, transportation of sick and wounded, army organization, and study periods.

The corps is organized on standard military lines and officer candidates go to Oshawa for further training in an intensive three-week course. Upon graduation they are qualified Red Cross instructors.

Fighting Rages In East Korea As Reds Mass

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 14 (Friday) (AP)—Fierce fighting raged on eastern Korean hill tops Thursday while at least 250,000 tank-supported Communist troops were reported massed along the western battle front for a possible "full moon" drive toward Seoul.

AP war correspondent Stan Carter reported there was some speculation among Eighth Army officers that the Red offensive in the west if it develops at all may come this next week-end when the moon is full.

However, other sources still were inclined to doubt that the Communists plan an immediate attack. These officers pointed out there is no indication that Communist troops have received full assault rations and equipment for an offensive.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo has disclosed that 40 re-fitted and re-equipped Communist divisions have been identified along the battlefront and at least 30 more divisions in rear areas between the front line and Manchuria.

Reds Will Revive Parley If U.N. Takes All Blame

TOKYO, Sept. 14 (Friday) (AP)—A Peiping broadcast Thursday night said the Korean cease-fire talks "could start immediately" and agreement could be quickly reached if the United Nations would take the blame for all the neutrality violations the Reds have charged.

There was no immediate response from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters. But the Communist price appeared too high for the Allied commander to accept.

The Red offer was not made on an official level. It came during a Peiping broadcast of a dispatch quoting a Communist correspondent in Kaesong. However, the rigidly-controlled propaganda line of Red correspondents frequently has reflected official Red thinking.

Today Peiping, quoting more dispatches from Kaesong, said Allied planes had flown over the area 94 times between September 10 and September 12. The Red inference is that these were neutrality violations although the Allies have pointed out there never was any agreement to ban such flights.

Time-Savers in Korea

'Copters Carry Supplies To Front-Line Troops

WITH U.S. FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA, Sept. 13 (INS)—Marine helicopters made history today with the first airlift of supplies by such aircraft to men in combat.

Ten giant 10-man Sikorsky M-19's made two round trips each carrying mortars, ammunition and water to Marines on a hilltop in front of the Allied lines and evacuating wounded to a rear aid station.

Marine officers estimated that the 'copters in less than an hour transported what it would take 1,000 men 10 hours to carry to the hilltop position.

The success of the operation pointed up the possibility of using the big "egg-beaters" to land combat troops behind enemy lines in the manner of paratroops and glider forces. A large-scale use of giant helicopters may make accepted airborne tactics obsolete.

Today 10 helicopters landed on the side of the marine-held hill which was taken only the day before and has been subjected to intermittent Communist mortar and artillery fire all day from three sides of the peak.

In fact, only five minutes before the last helicopter landed on the slope, four rounds of 76 m.m. artillery struck the bare spot where the 'copters alighted.

Six of the "flying windmills" carried the cargo in nets swung under the carriage while the others packed the supplies inside the main cabin.

Say Gneisenau Now Salvaged

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Polish press reported today the German battleship Gneisenau, left disabled by fleeing Nazis in 1945, has been raised by Polish salvage crews at the mouth of Gdynia harbor.

Authorities said the Gneisenau, listed at 27,000 tons by the Germans, actually is 32,000 tons and is the largest ship ever raised for salvage. They said she had been scuttled by the Nazis to block Gdynia harbor.

Government Members Lashed by Rebel Pair

Members of the provincial government were verbally lashed and accused of being "window dressing" last night when rebels from the Coalition opened their Esquimalt by-election campaign to elect Cmdr. A. C. Wurtele.

"We who fight to become members of the Legislative Assembly do so because we've something to say from the people we represent," said Mrs. Tilly Rolston, M.L.A., "but we get no chance to put our ideas into execution in this government.

"Why? Because of the 48 members, 44 are potential premiers, afraid to say anything that might hurt their standing."

Mrs. Rolston trained her guns full on the cabinet, at the crowded meeting in the Boilermakers' Hall.

"I fought for margarine and I fought against the sales tax and I fought against compulsory hospital insurance run in the way it is run, but the 11 big boys in the ivory tower of the cabinet were all against me. And when it comes to a vote they crack the whip.

"Last year The Daily Colonist wrote a number of editorials about our "one-cylinder government." The Colonist said it was time for the private members to assert themselves and to show that the cabinet is not boss.

PEOPLE IGNORED

"If you elect a Coalition candidate," she said, "you are endorsing a government that persistently ignores the wishes of the people, a government that endorses costly hospital insurance, five-year licenses and a cost-of-living index which has risen to 190."

W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A., who crossed the floor of the House at the same time as Mrs. Rolston, said they hadn't broken faith with the government.

"They broke faith with us," he said, "and with the people, every time they broke a promise."

"On this platform," he said, "we are for free enterprise, pensions, small business and against monopolies. And the monopoly we hate the most is government monopoly."

Mr. Bennett said the present government was the most reckless in the history of British Columbia.

the history of British Columbia.

Cmdr. Wurtele, running as an independent, cracked at the hospital insurance scheme from his point of view as a director of the board of Royal Jubilee Hospital.

He said members of the board were frequently kept in the dark by a government not far from dictatorship.

Defends Use Of Ghost Cars

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (CP)—Police Chief Walter Mulligan tonight defended the use of "ghost cars" by the police traffic department.

In a radio broadcast he said that if there was not a reduction in traffic accidents by the end of the year, he would take "even sterner measures."

The "ghost cars," which have no visible siren or red lights, were first introduced during the Christmas season last year.

By the end of January, 1951, a total of 37 drivers had been arrested by "ghost car" officers, and another 184 drivers were taken out of their cars "before they could kill someone."

Talks' Opening To Be Heard On Network

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Opening ceremonies of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference will be broadcast on the CBC's trans-Canada network on Saturday at 9.30 a.m.

The opening address will be given by Belgium's foreign minister, Paul van Seeland, chairman of the N.A.T.O. council. His talk will be made in both English and French.

During the week of Sept. 16, the foreign ministers of the United Kingdom, United States, France, and Canada, will give their views on what the strategy of the west should be today and will tell how N.A.T.O. fits into that strategy in a special CBC public affairs series called "The Defense of Peace."

Morrison, Schuman and Pearson will be heard on Monday, Thursday and Friday, respectively at 9.45 p.m., 6.15 p.m. and 9.45 p.m. Mr. Acheson will be heard on Tuesday at 10.15 p.m. These talks will also be carried on the trans-Canada network.

Official Says Fishermen Not Paying Up

POWELL RIVER, B.C., Sept. 13 (CP)—H. Slade, Powell River hospital administrator, yesterday told the hospital insurance inquiry board that 99 out of 100 fishermen do not pay hospital insurance.

He said also that "a very high percentage" of teachers were not paying. He estimated 15 per cent of the people had not registered.

Some people had been paying for a year or two years, not knowing they were delinquent in dues in 1949, he said. He thought a person should be eligible as soon as he started paying back premiums plus a penalty.

Ignominy For One

Police "Delay" Old Cars Rattling to New York

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—Rube de Launty and his 1911 Stoddard-Dayton arrived ignominiously in Buffalo tonight at the end of a tow rope.

De Launty was two hours behind Jack Brause's 1913 Stanley Steamer. Both vintage cars battled a pelting rain on the fifth leg of their Chicago-to-New York old-car race.

De Launty said his motor had conked out twice due to the rain. The second time, only a few miles out of Buffalo, it refused to start.

In elapsed time, Brause ended the day's run with a lead of one hour and 15 minutes. He was 45 minutes behind De Launty leaving Cleveland.

Brause, 76, and De Launty, 70, left Cleveland at 8.20 a.m., EST today. Brause pulled into Buffalo schortly after 10 p.m. EST. Cleveland is about 190 miles from Buffalo.

Brause said the 1913 Steamer, which he rebuilt himself for the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, gave him no trouble today. It was just the rain.

But Miss Margaret Harris, a secretary with Popular Mechanics Magazine, who accompanied Brause, had another idea.

"All the way he's been saying 'Those gol-darn cops make us go too slow,'" she said.

Popular Mechanics Magazine and the museum are co-sponsors of the race.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

Vancouver Alderman Mrs. Elizabeth Wood strongly opposed the sale of horsemeat the other day.

"She said she had been born and raised on a farm, and she would no more eat horsemeat than human flesh. Horses were next to human beings in intelligence, she said."

Someone [illegible] to a commentary in verse upon this statement, which was published by a Vancouver newspaper columnist. It said, in part:

"According to Elizabeth Wood
The proper way to purchase food
Is, have the butcher begin by stating
The animal's intelligence rating.
The horse, for instance, from a stable
Is far too clever for your table.
The question that arises now
Is, can you eat a cultured cow?"

Many a keen-witted professor of anthropology has disappeared into the flesh-pots of the Congo, I suppose. Many a learned missionary has ended up as the main dish at some service-club luncheon in cannibal country.

Somehow I doubt if the diners found out how many college degrees their distinguished guests had. I doubt if they even troubled to measure their I.Q.'s.

According to their own standards, the cannibals showed good common sense. I do not suggest that we follow their example too literally. Off-hand I cannot think of many people I would care to eat.

And if somebody led me to a horse, forced me to stare into its big brown eyes, and invited me to eat the horse there and then, I would decline.

Most horses I have met look as though they would be quite willing to eat me, if they had the chance.

Confronted with a horse on the hoof at the other side of a good stout fence, however, I might be able to whip up a mild degree of affection for the animal — although I prefer pigs.

But when the horse is presented in the form of a porter-house steak, appetite finishes ahead of sympathy by several lengths.

If every butcher is forced to employ a staff psychologist to find out whether his animals are stupid enough to be eaten, prices will go up even farther.

Acknowledge the existence of highly-intelligent horses, and you are almost bound to admit that there may be cultured cows as well.

I have eaten quite an amount of beef in my life — though not so much in recent years. It is sobering to reflect that I may have helped devour a Shakespeare or an Einstein of the bovine world.

Victoria traffic surveyor Robert Doble called on me yesterday to deny any intention of persecuting the motorist. His plan for heavier parking fines would only sting the meter hogs, he says.

Victoria has nearly 1,000 parking meters. Of these, 250 are occupied every day by all-day parkers, Mr. Doble claims. Some deliberately evade paying. The Doble plan is to smoke these people out, because they are blocking the way for people who want to go shopping.

Some 16,000 cars come into Victoria on a Saturday, and many of them can't find a place to park because one-quarter of the spaces are already taken up. This is hurting trade, Mr. Doble and some merchants contend.

However, I am still more enthusiastic about Mr. Doble's plans to promote parking lots than I am about the heavier fines. Heavier fines may cost me money.

Wild Gold-Seekers Kept Island British

"It's all your fault that we are Canadians and not Americans," provincial archivist Willard E. Ireland told a group of visiting Americans at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday.

In an amusing and informative address, Mr. Ireland outlined the early history of the formation of B.C., its subsequent establishment as a colony, then as a province.

Much of this was speeded up, he said, by the fear of early governors that "invading" American gold-seekers also sought to annex.

Fireman Saves Stranded Dog

The animal was stranded on mud flats in the inner harbor yesterday morning during low tide. Fireman Eric Simmons went down the side of the Causeway wall and pulled the frightened animal to safety.

Deputy Chief Frank Briers said a second dog skipped to safety on mud flats near the inner harbor. He believed the second dog went off to look for rats under the C.P.R. wharf.

CASTLEDERG, Tyrone, Ireland (CP).—A substitute minister had to be called when William Sproule and Cissie Patterson arrived for their wedding at the Presbyterian Church here. The regular minister had married the week before and was still honeymooning.

British Oil "On Rampage"

Nearly 500 British firemen and 100 soldiers fought for three days to extinguish this dockside oil fire, which destroyed 22 tanks and 20 million gallons of gasoline at Avonmouth, Eng., on the Bristol Channel. Three persons were known to have perished.—(Central Press Canadian.)

Ban Czech Flights Over West Germany

FRANKFURT, Sept. 13 (CP)—The Western Allies have forbidden further flights across West Germany by the government air line of Communist Czechoslovakia, which is at odds with them over the Oatis case and other issues.

The air ban went into effect at midnight Tuesday. It was confirmed today. Czech planes must make long detours over the Soviet occupation zone to the Baltic if they attempt to continue flying to western capitals such as Brussels and Amsterdam.

United States, British and French high commissioners informed the Czech military mission in Berlin in a brief note Monday that they had suspended Czech flight privileges "until further notice."

They gave no explanation but the action is known to be one of several punitive measures the U.S. government has drafted as a reprisal for the Czech imprisonment of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis, sentenced to 10 years on a charge of spying.

U.S. officials said they were considering prosecution of West German firms suspected of conspiring with a Czech agent in illegally shipping $318,000 worth of critical machinery to Czechoslovakia.

The U.S. high commission announced that 31 instead of 25, of the 108 Czechs borne to West Germany in a commandeered express train Tuesday had chosen to remain here.

King, Philip Shoot in Rain

EDINBURGH, Sept. 13 (Reuters)—The king, still under treatment for lung trouble, braved rain on the moors today to join a shooting party from Balmoral Castle.

He was accompanied by the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Princess Elizabeth, on an expedition to Gairnshiel about four miles from Balmoral.

The king is returning to London by train tomorrow night to see his physicians. The queen and Princess Margaret will travel with him.

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh may remain in Scotland for another week. But their children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, may travel south with the king and queen.

Doctors believe the king's present lung condition is an aftermath of an attack of catarrhal inflammation of the lung last May. The king, 56, was then advised to take a long rest.

Army Engineers Believe Blast Cause of Big Span's Collapse

THREE RIVERS, Que., Sept. 13 (CP)—An explosion probably caused the collapse of the Duplessis bridge, two Canadian Army engineering experts said today.

They told a two-man commission investigating the collapse that strands of wire found around a section of a steel girder were probably used to set off an explosion that caused the tragedy.

The $3,500,000 span across the St. Maurice River collapsed Jan. 31 causing four deaths. A fifth man was drowned when the tractor he was using in an attempt to salvage a submerged automobile crashed through the ice.

Major-General H. Kennedy, federal government engineering consultant, and Brig. D. K. Black said they believed some "external force" was responsible for the collapse.

Major-General Kennedy said he estimated that 25 pounds of high explosives were used in the explosion. Brigadier Black said he considered that 10 pounds would have been sufficient to cause the crack in the steel girder.

Oddities

EDMONTON, Sept. 13 (CP)—A young Edmonton football fan is $50 richer today—because she believes honesty is the best policy.

On the way home from a Saturday night football game, nine-year-old Kathleen Dunnigan found $500 in an envelope in the stadium parking lot.

She took the money home to her father—and he returned it to a company named on the envelope.

The reward money will be used to buy a bicycle, Kathleen said.

DOVER, N.H., Sept. 13 (AP)—Burglars who visited the Pritchard Grain Company Monday night did it the hard way.

They climbed to the top of a freight car, jumped across to a loading platform roof, scaled a barbed-wire fence, forced a window, and finally broke open a metal drawer.

The take—$1 in change.

VINELAND, N.J., Sept. 13 (AP)—John Baldosaro wasn't too sure today about the adage "like father, like son."

He was out driving yesterday when an automobile from the opposite direction swung to the wrong side of the road. He swerved. So did the second driver. Both jammed on their brakes.

Baldosaro, shaken but unhurt, jumped out to give "that guy" a piece of his mind.

He looked angrily into a familiar face—that of his son, Louis.

U.K. Buys Russian Grain

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Britain announced tonight the purchase of 1,000,000 tons of grain from Russia.

The purchase underlined both Britain's precarious shortage of dollars and her intention of taking no part in any economic blockade of the Russian bloc. Payment is to be made in sterling.

In another trade sphere, it was disclosed that Britain has stopped British ships from delivering their cargoes to Iran as part of her cold war against the Iranian government over the oil nationalization issue.

A board of trade spokesman said the embargo was in line with cancellation by the British Treasury Monday of financial and economic concessions to Iran.

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison outlined the British position on east-west trade before the National Press Club in Washington shortly before the grain deal was announced here.

Morrison said Britain must continue trade with the Russian bloc if she is to carry her share of the west's rearmament burden. To halt such trade now, he said, might "cut off our nose to spite our face."

The food ministry disclosed the signing of the contract for the grain from this year's Russian harvest.

The contract calls for 200,000 tons of wheat, 425,000 tons of barley, 300,000 tons of corn and 75,000 tons of oats. Last year Britain bought the same quantities of corn, barley and oats from Russia, but no wheat.

In Ottawa, officials said that Britain's purchases of grain from Russia will have little effect on her purchases from Canada.

Giving an indication of the extent of Anglo-Russian trade, government figures show Russia piled up $50,000,000 trade balance with Britain in the first six months of 1951. The same figures show that Russia has been buying rubber, wool, tin, cocoa and tea in the sterling area.

Senate Passes Huge Defense Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The senate passed by a vote of 79 to 0 the largest single defense-spending bill in United States history today after cutting it by about $1,500,000,000.

The bill provides just short of $60,000,000,000 for a giant new phase of the country's military buildup.

States Pacific "Critical Area"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (INS)—Gov. Dewey told President Truman today that the Pacific is the "critical area" in the struggle against Communist aggression and urged "much closer" U.S.-Far East ties.

The New York governor visited the White House on his Pacific reconnaissance mission.

Dewey spent 40 minutes with Mr. Truman. He said he told the president that whereas European defenses are "pretty good" the Pacific remains a prime target for new Red aggression.

Inflation as Big a Threat As Bombs, Says Pearson

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP)—Inflation has become as big a threat as bombs to the western world, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today in disclosing that both the short and long-range economic aspects of rearmament are going to be examined by western leaders here in the next week.

There is a very real feeling among those leaders, he told his biggest press conference in [illegible] a major menace to western security. For that reason, the Atlantic Pact Council would devote a lot of its time to studying the relationship between rearmament and the economy of the free world.

But he indicated, too, that Canada is going to work for and likely get some sort of reaffirmation of Canadian-fathered article two of the pact charter. That is the one that pledges the 12 member nations to work for long-range economic and social integration with a view to creating a single Atlantic community.

Mr. Pearson, one of 32 cabinet ministers of all the powers who will attend the meeting, said the dangers of inflation, shortages and other short-range repercussions of rearmament tend to obscure long-range economic aims. But, he predicted, this meeting will pay more attention to the objectives of article two than any other N.A.T.O. meeting in the past.

The King's Health

ONCE more the King has been forced to undergo medical treatment, illustrating that the fears expressed in recent months about the general state of his health have unfortunately been well founded. A steady deterioration of his resistance to ailment has been apparent since the war, as the picture of His Majesty shown on the front page of this newspaper earlier in the week bore out. All too obviously the strain of the war years and an unremitting round of state duties have left him tired and worn.

Deep concern about the King has been expressed by responsible English observers, who recognize the perfection of his reign and the sterling qualities which have given him a special place in the affections of his peoples. Some of them have stated bluntly that he is unduly burdened by state obligations and should be relieved substantially of his labors. It has even been hinted that the King will never again be a really well and strong man and that his abdication in favor of Princess Elizabeth is a factor that must be held as possible in the near future.

His Majesty is so highly conscious of the traditional functions that fall to his lot that credence need not be given to this suggestion until it becomes a fact; nevertheless thought of such a circumstance adds to the interest of Princess Elizabeth's coming visit to this area. The Princess has substituted increasingly for her father and as heiress-presumptive has more and more come into the limelight. This would be natural in any event, however, and there will be a genuine hope here as elsewhere that recovery of the King will become so marked as to remove all disquiet concerning his health.

Let's Not Rush It Again

AN IDEA seems to be current that since the provincial legislature is going to be in session next month, it should go to work on the hospital insurance scheme again. It is acknowledged by the government as well as some of the hospitals and many public organizations that there is room for further improvement in the scope and administration of the plan, and it would be very nice if the necessary changes could be made right away. That seems neither possible nor advisable in the circumstances, however.

Too much initial haste was responsible for most of the bad features in the insurance act, and no sensible person would want to see another rush job done on it. Whatever improvements are to be made should be based on the most comprehensive investigation of the plan now in operation and careful thought as to how defects could be remedied so as to produce a scheme which would be fair and actuarially sound. Such an investigation is in progress. The committee of the House appointed earlier in the year to make it has been working expeditiously by all accounts; but so many people and organizations have wanted to be heard and there has been so much ground to cover, that the committee is still a long way from completion of its task.

When the hearings are over the committee will need time to analyze the evidence, condense it into a report, and prepare its recommendations; after which the government also will need time for review before presenting amendments to the legislature. To expect all this to be done within the next month would be unreasonable and bad business as well, since hurried changes might only lead to more trouble.

The difficulty with a special session to deal with a specific matter which cannot await the regular assembly is that the moment one is called there is pressure to make it a soup-to-nuts affair. Pensions are the business of next month's session, and decision is urgent because the new plan goes into effect on Jan. 1. The House could and should deal with the Buttle Lake issue at the same time, because that matter, too, clearly comes under the heading of an emergency. To drag in hospital insurance as well, however, could easily keep members busy until Christmas, thus piling up the cost to the taxpayers of keeping the House in session.

He Had a Status of His Own

NO MAN is entirely indispensable but General George Marshall is so highly respected a figure that his resignation as Secretary of Defense leaves President Truman with no one of equal weight in his cabinet. In a sense the general's work is done, in that American rearmament is now in full flourish and unlikely to diminish because he has given up the helm, but his absence will nevertheless be felt keenly in Allied councils.

General Marshall had a status all his own in American public life. His integrity was beyond question, and a Senate fond of making sport of other cabinet ministers accepted him without question. He was too big a man to be sniped at in the fashion unfortunately all too common in Washington. It was the measure of his power and capacity that alone of his colleagues he seemed above the common grade. Put simply, his nation trusted him, and so did its allies.

At 70 years of age any man is entitled to retire for the personal reasons given by General Marshall. He has promised to return to duty if any emergency requires him, but his record of war and postwar service already assures him of a high place in American and indeed world history. His name is written in Europe in the Marshall Plan, a contribution to human rehabilitation not often associated with the name of a soldier.

BUTTLE LAKE

Sir,—Counsel for the B.C. Power Commission stresses the importance of electric power for the province and the state, and the comparative cheapness of a dam at Buttle Lake. It is the outlook of the "economic man" of the textbooks, and not the outlook of the Columbian.

Mr. Haig-Brown's so-called prejudice is a prejudice in favor of available scenery rather than available electric power, and is shared by many.

Mr. Davey says that witnesses who opposed the commission's plan have never been to Buttle Lake. How many members of the commission have been to the lake?

Non-acquaintance of the average citizen with the park set aside for him is at the bottom of the whole affair. The damming of Buttle Lake should be postponed until a road allows people to drive in and out of the valley on their holidays. Then they will know what they are being asked to give up. That is better than giving up what you don't know without being asked.

The coalition profess to encourage indivual initiative. I should like to see a private member of the party in power show this quality, and propose the building of a road first, and a dam second, if at all.

ZONING CONFLICT

Sir,—Certain residents of Victoria West have filed fresh protests against the alleged proposed saw mill at 620 Seaforth Street. As one of the owners of this property, may I say that, at no time, has there been any contemplation of erecting a saw mill.

Perhaps the objectors to rezoning will now enlighten us as to where they expect Victoria's future industrial expansion to take place. Do they suggest utilization of either or both sides of Victoria Arm north of the C.N.R. Bridge? Or do they feel that there should be no further industrialization of Victoria? Would these objectors oppose the reopening of the Silver Spring Brewery or favor the removal of Ormond's Biscuit Factory, the Imperial Oil Tanks on Viewfield Road, and other industries surrounding this area south of Esquimalt Road where the property in question is situated? Do these objectors think, for one moment, that the present owners of the Hoggs properties facing the Cold Storage, Fisherman's Wharf and Grain Elevator, and a log-filled harbor, are likely to build residences of any kind on those lands? And do they seriously believe that the old homes on Seaforth Street and Bernard Terrace will continue to be maintained by the owners for residential purposes in face of the high return that would result to these owners if the properties could be used for industrial purposes?

In general, may I call to the attention of all those who oppose the rezoning of Victoria Harbor that it is this harbor that is the artery that feeds a large city; that the harbor available to the city is far too small in itself and there is need that every foot of it be made available for industrial purposes; that such rezoning would incalculably increase the value of all harbor-surrounding properties, as well as greatly enhance the city tax revenue derived from it.

SINCLAIR ELLIOTT,

MILK PRODUCTION

Sir,—In the present difficulty of milk production, and shortage of feed due to the long drought, would the following be of interest to our British Columbia farmers for future considerations?

Extract from a London, England, newspaper —quote: "The Dexter, our smallest breed of cattle, weighs only 650 pounds, lives on grass or weeds and gives 600 gallons of milk a year.

"Its milk is almost as rich as Guernsey or Jersey, and is free from tuberculosis; it is a good beef animal too.

"The docile Dexter originated from native Irish cattle crossed with fighting bulls imported from Spain during the last century.

"It is their scavenging qualities which are making them popular when there is little food to spare for cattle."

There are about 150 pedigree herds of the Dexter in Britain today (they are not much bigger than a Shetland pony).

It might be of mutual advantage for Canada to import this stock from Britain and give them much needed dollars in payment, and so increase milk and beef production at a lower cost to the farmer—thereby giving the advantage of lower prices to the Canadian housewife.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

I CAME across an item about wigs not long ago, just where I don't now remember, but no matter. For a reason known only to the mysterious depths of the mind I have suddenly begun to think about the subject.

Not, perhaps I should say in self-defense, that I am in imminent need of a toupee. 'Tis true there are indications that a helicopter pilot might note were he poised over my head, but even if the worst comes to the worst I shall let nature take its course. One more bald head won't upset the universe.

I am wondering rather if ladies are not passing up a good thing in giving wigs the go-by. Some of them may indeed have some camouflage of the kind about their hair-dos, but that's not what I mean. Wigs of this sort are meant to deceive, or at least not to be advertised.

* * *

It is the other kind I'm thinking of—the wig that is unashamed of being a wig. For that matter individuals who lack hair and have little choice but to wear a toupee, shouldn't have to feel embarrassed. And if society weren't wholly irrational on this point they wouldn't.

Anyway society has no room to turn up its nose, really, when you think of hair dressing parlors and beauty salons, and the concoctions that emerge from them, male and female both.

It seems to me, though, it would be much easier on the system to slip on a blue, red, blond or brunette wig than to have your head dipped differently every other week in order to keep up with the feminine fashion. There are such famous precedents it is amazing this idea does not prevail.

Cleopatra, they tell me, boasted a hundred different wigs, and no one thought ill of her varied coiffures. In fact if all that's said of her is true she was a very successful lady, up to a point at least. Another fair lady of old, Mary Queen of Scots, had so many they followed her on journeys in a special coach.

You could scarcely ask for a better recommendation than that, ladies, could you?

Remember, too, that your great-great-great-great-great-grandmother wore a wig, and your great-great-great-great-grandfather also. It may be even that they exchanged wigs of an evening when they were dining out.

* * *

It's not a very colorful world now, come to think of it. The Romans and the ancient Greeks had the right idea.

They wore wigs, either to conceal baldness or by way of adornment. The Roman toilet was incomplete without this fashionable adjunct, and custom prescribed a variety of colors to suit individual taste.

Perhaps we should turn the clock back a couple of thousand years.

All this reminds me of a story which a famous Swiss wigmaker told about one of his customers. He made a wig for a young girl who had been badly burned, with openings for what was left of her own hair to be combined with his creation.

She was delighted.

She came back every two weeks to have it cared for, year in and year out. Then one day she asked for the wigmaker's advice. She was going to be married and wanted to know if she should tell her husband that her hair was false.

Being a prudent soul the wigmaker said yes, she should. If the man loved her it wouldn't make any difference. The lady was married and lived happily for years. Her hair is now grey. Not long ago she came to the wigmaker and asked him to come and see her husband as he was ill.

Then she said: "He doesn't know I wear a wig—I never told him!"

Believe it or not.

The Pacific Three-Power Pact

By W. N. EWER

LONDON.—The security pact signed by the governments of the United States, Australia and New Zealand was an essential prelude to the conclusion of the Japanese peace treaty. For that treaty was only possible on the assumption that it is fitted into a wider system of security for the Pacific area.

Without the creation of such a security system, it would be impossible for Australia and New Zealand to contemplate without the deepest anxiety the restoration of her sovereign independence to Japan. Japanese rearmament and Japanese disarmament could be almost equally dangerous to contemplate in the present condition of world affairs.

So, the first requisite for any settlement was to create in the Pacific the framework of a defensive system, in which the strongest of the free and peaceful Pacific powers would pledge themselves to mutual assistance in resisting a future aggression from any quarter whatever. That is provided by the three-power security pact. It is for the time being limited in scope. There are only three members. And they only pledge themselves to come to each others' aid in the event of an attack upon their own territories. But it has to be regarded in conjunction with the new American-Philippine pact, and with the pact being made between the U.S.A. and Japan. And above all, it has to be regarded in conjunction with unwritten obligations stronger than any written treaty which exists between the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand.

* * *

There have been suggestions that the new pact in some way indicates some loosening of those obligations; that it indicates some kind of reorientation of Australian and New Zealand policy, away from the United Kingdom and towards the U.S.A. Strange deductions of this kind stem from complete misapprehension of the relationship of the Commonwealth states to each other and to other countries. There is nothing whatever abnormal in the fact that two members of the Commonwealth are making a regional defense pact with an outside country to which the United Kingdom is not a party or to which the other Commonwealth states are not parties. The United Kingdom is a member of the Western Union created by the Brussels Treaty of 1948. The United Kingdom and Canada are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization created in 1949. It has never, as far as I know, been suggested that the United Kingdom, in joining either of these organizations, was in any way alienating herself from Australia and New Zealand or weakening the ties which exist with them.

Moreover, in this particular case, United Kingdom participation would have been in a large measure superfluous. What would it have contributed? The United Kingdom would have pledged itself to come to the assistance of Australia or New Zealand in event of either of them being attacked. But such a pledge would be utterly and completely redundant. That the United Kingdom would come to their assistance or they to the assistance of the United Kingdom in time of need is something so entirely taken for granted that the idea of putting it on paper is rather distasteful. Certainly it is entirely unnecessary.

The United Kingdom would, in addition, be pledging itself to assist the U.S.A. if the U.S.A. were to be attacked. But the fact is often overlooked that this pledge already exists in the North Atlantic Treaty. That treaty applies just as much to an attack on Canada or the U.S.A. as to an attack on any of the European partners. And this being so, it is surely plain that there would have been no purpose in the United Kingdom signing a document by which it would simply be undertaking obligations which, in either written or unwritten form, exist already.

* * *

If the Three-Power Pact were to develop into a wider Pacific security system then the case would be altered, and Britain's membership of such a system would be probable. But that is another matter.

The United Kingdom then, has not joined in this new pact because to have done so would have been superfluous. Nor does the new pact in any way affect or alter the relationship of the United Kingdom to any of the three signatories. And the pact has not merely the approval but the strong support of the United Kingdom government. For it not only strengthens the security of the countries whose security is "a vital British interest"; it has also made possible a settlement of the Japanese problem in a manner which commends itself here.

There were, apart from the method adopted in the Anglo-American draft treaty, only impossible alternatives. One would have been to leave Japan entirely unarmed and defenseless as soon as the occupation forces were withdrawn—a method which rather significantly the Soviet government favors. Another would have been to run the risk, without any precautionary measures, of a dangerous resurgence of Japanese armed strength. The third, to have no treaty at all, but to keep Japan indefinitely under foreign occupation and control. All three were plainly out of the question.

Therefore, the only method was, while restoring her sovereignty to Japan, to bring her into a security system which would give her a reasonable assurance of safety without either the need or the excuse for menacingly strong armaments of her own; and at the same time to provide, as it were, a reassurance for the countries which must inevitably feel a certain anxiety at the prospect of seeing Japan rearmed in any way.

The new pact, as Sir Carl Berendsen, who signed it for New Zealand, said, enables his country and Australia to approach the Japanese peace treaty with fuller confidence as "a treaty of generosity, forbearance and renewed hope for the future". That alone would more than justify it.

These Aren't Luxuries

(From The Ottawa Citizen)

THE Canadian Association of Consumers will have much public support in its demands for removal of the excise tax on gas and electric stoves. Since the 15 per cent tax was incorporated in the budget last April, the conviction that this is an unjust and unreasonable tax has grown in the minds of Canadians. As the C.A.C. points out in its letter to Mr. Abbott, electric and gas stoves are not luxuries but necessities. In urban areas, few apartment dwellers can use wood and coal stoves; many home-owners have insufficient storage space for coal or wood.

Moreover, labor-saving devices such as electric stoves, washing machines and refrigerators are an integral part of the higher standard of living that Canadians have developed during the last decade. Formerly, a sufficiently large portion of this nation's labor force was devoted to domestic work to enable housewives to perform their duties in and outside the home without the aid of labor-saving devices. Now, such devices have replaced domestic workers. And the economy of the country is stronger because the skills of these workers are being used to produce goods instead of to give domestic services.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

In national politics, the who's-to-blame-for-inflation dialogue shapes up as the funniest since Abbott & Costello in their who's-on-first routine.

BUREAUCRACY

A boy in Wiltshire was so obstreperous on the school bus that the driver was authorized to refuse to transport him. That meant that the boy could not go to school. Therefore, at the taxpayers' expense, the local authorities furnished him with a bicycle.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

While Visiting Britain

BY a great stroke of fortune, I was given a day's fishing for salmon this week on the Don, which is the next river north of the Dee in Aberdeenshire. It was the wrong time of year for salmon. And the weather was terrible. Once an hour, the clouds, sagging like old torn circus tents over the Highlands, let go a deluge of rain. The river started to rise. It changed from crystal clear to an opaque grey.

And when dusk fell I had not seen a salmon, though I had waved the big fly rod hour after hour over every pool the local experts indicated to me. So, wet and happy, we went back to the tiny hotel at Glenkindie for supper.

The soup was good Scotch broth, and when the next plate was laid before us, it was salmon, garnished with tomatoes and lettuce.

One look at it served to prove that it was not the lovely pink salmon of the Scottish rivers. It had an orange tint.

Here was a fine situation. To be on the banks of a famous Scottish salmon river, and to be eating canned salmon.

My friends were amused.

"A Canadian," they protested, "fishes all day on one of the best boats in Strathdon, and then is given tinned Canadian salmon for supper!"

I doubted it. I look of it. We asked the glum and unamused Scottish waitress to bring in the salmon tin from the kitchen.

Which seems to me a bigger insult than ever.

Speaker was Rep. Donald L. Jackson of the U.S. House Un-American Activities Committee. He told his audience that the Reds set out to "capture" the motion picture industry and once had a membership of 500 in Hollywood, where a week-long hearing on Red infiltration begins next Monday.

Power Expansion Said Need in North

The B.C. Power Commission appears to be taking steps to match the industrial growth in British Columbia's north.

In its annual report for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1951, made public yesterday, the commission notes the effect on the economic life of many smaller towns between Prince George and Prince Rupert of the developments of Alcan and Columbia Cellulose.

"Increasing activity, particularly in relation to forest products, indicates that further expansion of the distribution system from Terrace eastward will be necessary in order to meet both domestic and industrial requirements," the report states.

The report notes that revenue for the 1950-51 fiscal year totaled $4,064,641.79. Expenses amounted to $2,639,731.16.

A sum of $1,272,497.47 is set aside for maintenance, renewals, sinking fund and contingencies reserves, leaving $152,413.16 net surplus, only $238.84 less than the surplus during the previous year.

TO LEVY HEAVY CHARGES

During the coming year, the report explains, heavy carrying charges on the Whatshan development will be levied against operations and will not be offset until greater use is made of the available capacity of the plant, located on Arrow Lake. Other factors which may have an effect on the net operating result this year are the higher expenses attributable to increased salaries and bonuses granted to offset the upward cost of living trend, it is stated.

Average charge a kilowatt hour for residential consumers is 3.3 cents; for commercial consumers, 3.2 cents; for power customers other than sales under special contracts, the charge is 1.6 cents.

The commission's customers get power from 71 generating units—nine more than a year ago. These units supplied all but 11,932,279 of the total 267,488,496 kilowatt hours produced. The subsidiary total was purchased from other sources.

New Political Angles Held Unlikely in Esquimalt

By LAWRIE JOSLIN

There seems little likelihood of the Esquimalt by-election producing a new slant on the current political scene.

The Coalition believes its candidate should stand or fall on the basis of its own record. Premier Byron Johnson is telling the story as the main speaker at a number of meetings where the Coalition candidate, Victoria's Mayor Percy George, is appearing.

Premier Johnson is confident that the record of the Coalition will mean victory for Mayor George.

As usual, the C.C.F. will be attacking the record of the Coalition. But this time the attack may be stronger because the C.C.F. feels the public is resentful of the way the government has handled hospital insurance.

ABLE SPEAKERS

The party has ranged some of its ablest speakers alongside its candidate, Frank Mitchell.

Don McDonald, national C.C.F. treasurer; Harold Winch, Opposition leader in the Legislature, and Grant McNeil, provincial president, all will speak at meetings in support of Mr. Mitchell.

Mrs. Tilly Rolston, member for Vancouver-Point Grey, and W. A. C. Bennett, member for South Okanagan, Coalition rebels, are using the by-election as an opportunity to voice anew their quarrels with the government.

As disgruntled members of the Conservative Party in the Coalition, they are backing Cmdr. A. C. Wurtele, who appeared at first as the likely Conservative candidate before the Conservatives decided instead to accept the man picked by the Liberals.

INDEPENDENTS

It remains to be seen whether Independents like Mrs. Mary Whisker, Archibald McIntyre, Keith Gray and, if he runs, James Bryant can provide a new approach to the problems of government.

Though the fight may be fought on old grounds, it may well be a hot one, because the Esquimalt seat is regarded as a prize plum.

Reeve P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay will welcome members of the B.C. Engineering Society (municipal division) when they meet in Victoria for their annual three-day conference.

Conference will be held in the Empress Hotel Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

Major-Gen. C. R. Stein, provincial defense co-ordinator, will be the first speaker of the session.

Others scheduled as speakers include: E. G. deWolf, city engineer of Vernon; N. J. Goode of the provincial government; W. H. M. Haldane, K.C., of the B.C. Law Society, and G. F. Fountain of Vancouver.

British Sales Show Big Drop

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP).—Sales of British-made passenger cars took it on the chin in July as Canada's tightened credit restrictions continued to put a squeeze on the motor-vehicle industry.

Sales in Canada dropped to 1,769 units, a fraction of the 6,549 in July last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

This drop trimmed British sales in Canada for the seven months to 22,521 against 40,621 in the corresponding period a year ago.

With the consumer finding it tough to cough up the 50 per cent down payment on a new car, shipments of Canadian-made cars and trucks from factories dropped 25 per cent in July to 30,294 from 40,131. Most of the decline was in passenger cars.

Seven-month total shipments climbed to 278,069, a 20-per-cent gain over last year's 231,896. Most of the production was concentrated in the first three months of the year.

HOME FIRES BURNING

HUNSTANTON, England (CP).—Two sirens are usually heard when there's a fire in this Norfolk town. But in a recent fire only the alarm on the gasworks was heard. The other alarm is on the town hall, and it was the town hall that was on fire.

FAVORITE TREE

SIDCUP, Kent, England (CP).—Henry Jones had a fondness for the big elm tree which he passed daily on the way to work. So he finally cut it down, built a keel out of it for a cabin yacht and took his family on a yachting holiday.

Pickles Sloshes Three Councillors Who Hit Fire Department Handling

Reeve Sydney Pickles has turned a figurative fire hose on Councillors Harold Andrew, Willard Michell and Lorne Thomson, who Wednesday criticized the reeve's handling of the fire department.

"The statement by this trio who have caused a great deal of difficulty in the administration ... is misleading and smacks of political activity as two of them must vacate their seats in December," Reeve Pickles said.

The reeve said he had at no time attacked "our excellent fire chief," but referred merely to a certain number of "disgruntled municipal politicians (in the fire department) whose candidate for reeve lost out in the elections and who have carried on an 'anti-Pickles' campaign."

The reeve indicated that there is no place for politics in a volunteer fire department but added, "this does not mean a proclamation that no politics are allowed."

No council resolution regarding the water tank truck was countermanded, said the reeve.

"It was kept full of water for fire-fighting until our No. 3 tank truck was made ready." The steam-cleaning job was held up until after road oiling had been completed in order to save the taxpayers money, he said.

"I must often take the responsibility for getting things done in an emergency without waiting to carry on lengthy arguments with councillors whose highest ambition is to say 'no' to the reeve if at all possible," he said.

FINAL TOUCH

U.S. Forms Combat Unit For Missile

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP).—The air force today disclosed it is forming a combat unit to use guided missiles, and President Truman said this involved one of the deadly new weapons he has described as "fantastic in their operation."

The air force report amounted to announcement that it has reached the threshold of push-button warfare on the battlefield. The missiles may be able to carry atomic charges for blasting troops and fortifications in front-line areas.

Mr. Truman later in the day told a press conference questioner that the announcement involved the new weapons he hinted at in a speech Sept. 4 at San Francisco.

Out of a sparsely-worded announcement and an official photograph of the weapon in horizontal flight, these points emerged:

1. The weapon, now in production at the Glenn L. Martin Company airplane plant in Baltimore, Md., is designated as the "Matador" B-61 "pilotless bomber."

2. The "1st pilotless bomber squadron (light)" will be organized at the big U.S.A.F. missile test centre, Cocoa, Fla., Oct. 1.

3. The missile is about the size of a smallish fighter plane. But compact-size atom bombs have been developed for use in smaller aircraft.

EXPLODE OVER TARGET

4. Because it is equipped with radar and radio controls for guidance it also presumably can be exploded in the air over a target as well as detonated by actual impact with the target.

The air force announcement did not say how fast, far or high the "Matador" would fly. However, there were these facts to be considered: only a little more than 30 feet long, its fuselage and stubby, swept-back, knife-thin wings left little apparent room for fuel load when space was allowed for the bomb load and the intricate control mechanism. Therefore, its range would seem limited. But long range is not needed for battlefront war. It would be an easy target for present interceptor, man-controled jet interceptor fighters unless it had greater speed.

The highest known speed of a man-carrying fighter is that of the navy's Douglas "Skyrocket," reported to be 1,000 miles an hour in a climb. So it probably flies faster than that.

An air force spokesman said the B-61, despite its designation as a "pilotless bomber," is not another conversion of a standard manned airplane but is actually a guided missile, with no provision for a pilot.

Rails Lead Wall Street To New 1951 High Level

By AP and CP

Another new 1951 high was chalked up yesterday by the New York Stock Market with the railroads taking the lead.

Carriers were backed up solidly by the metals and oils.

The market has gone down only once in the last 12 sessions, and on the climb has established repeated new 1951 high marks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 30 cents at $100.20, the highest point since shares.

Liquors and miscellaneous industrials posted the strongest gains. Papers, agricultures and steels showed a majority of advances.

Western oils held firm support and climbed to another record high.

MONTREAL CLIMBS

The industrial list climbed steadily in a follow-up to Wednesday's trend on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market. Trading was active.

Senior metals and steels paced the market, and most industrial groups followed the trend. Utilities were narrowly mixed, while banks were off a shade.

WINNIPEG SLIPS

Early advances in grain prices were reduced or erased in active late trade on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange when hedging sales became more liberal.

Other selling was based on an easier tone on United States markets.

Volume amounted to 2,340,000 shares, the fourth straight day that it has been above the 2,000,000 mark.

TORONTO HIGHER

Industrial issues pushed steadily higher toward the session's close on the Toronto Stock Market.

Prices started to recover Wednesday after Tuesday's mild reaction to more than two weeks of uninterrupted advance. Trading was unusually heavy. Volume for [illegible] shares.

London Market Turns Cautious

LONDON, Sept. 13 (Reuters)—Britain's adverse trading balance of £120,000,000 in August introduced a note of caution into the Stock Exchange today and curtailed the recent better trend in domestic stocks.

Potential buyers held off but securities here showed little deterioration in prices. Most movements were small and in either direction. Engineering issues, however, maintained firmness.

The market in British Government Stocks was idle but mainly steady.

Elsewhere, Canadian dollar issues met renewed inquiry and recovered most of yesterday's setback.

In the bond section, Germans were raised in early dealings with the Government Loans fractionally higher and Polish Bonds higher while the German Municipal Loans were a shade easier on persistent support. Most of the gains had, however, been lost by the close.

Rubbers remained firm on hopes of exemption from dividend limitation but gilts were featureless in meagre trading.

Coppers with small declines reflected market sentiment following the small decline in the United Kingdom price of electrolytic copper. Gold shares were patchy.

Curbs to Remain For Three Months

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 13 (CP)—George W. Hogan of Toronto, president of the Federation of Automobile Dealer Associations of Canada, said today that the federal cabinet will leave consumer credit and banking credit restrictions in force "for at least three months or until the cost-of-living index levels off."

He made the statement at the A.D.A.C. convention here following an interview with Federal Finance Minister Douglas Abbott.

Mr. Hogan advised dealers to take a realistic view of the situation. There will be no relief this fall and dealers should limit car stocks to a 30-day supply, he said.

Oil Experts Take Look At Sands

EDMONTON, Sept. 13 (CP)—Eighty oil experts fly to northeastern Alberta today to take a first-hand look at the province's oil sands.

At Fort McMurray, 250 miles northeast of Edmonton, they will see the phenomenal sands from which oozes oil as thick as molasses.

Then they'll go on to Bitumont, 55 miles north of Fort McMurray, where a pilot plant has been engaged in trying various methods of processing the mixture of oil and sand.

The sands cover 30,000 square miles along the Athabasca River and are believed to contain the world's greatest known oil reserve.

The experts are engaged in a five-day discussion of how this oil wealth might be exploited profitably. So far no economic method has been proved.

Outlook For Crop Reduced

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13 (CP)—Western Canada crop prospects have deteriorated in the last month and a wheat crop of 518,000,000 bushels now is in prospect compared with an estimated 533,525,000 bushels a month ago, the Winnipeg Tribune's sixth and final telegraphic crop report for the current season showed today.

Last year's production totalled 427,000,000 bushels.

If present conditions are maintained the 24,574,000 acres seeded this spring will give an average yield of 21.1 bushels an acre, the report said. Lower yields are indicated in all three prairie provinces than were forecast a month ago.

Manitoba now is expected to harvest 47,400,000 bushels of wheat, compared with an estimated 49,291,000 bushels a month ago and last year's output of 50,000,000 bushels. The Saskatchewan wheat crop now is forecast at 321,600,000 bushels or more than 8,000,000 bushels less than forecast Aug. 15. Last year's production was 260,000,000 bushels. Correspondents' figures also reduce the Alberta crop by 5,000,000 bushels to an estimated total of 149,000,000 bushels, compared with 117,000,000 bushels in 1950.

A combination of cool, dull and rainy weather, ranging from frequent light showers to heavy downpours, have delayed the maturing of late crops and caused deterioration to early stands. Crops lying in the swath and some stooked grain is reported sprouting in various sections in all three provinces.

Tombill is stripping and trenching its property next to MacLeod Cockshutt. Portfolio market value, $616,286.

Further drilling is recommended at Marbenor to outline drill-indicated ore and confirm grades.

Foreign Exchange

MONTREAL, Sept. 13 (CP)—The American dollar today closed at 5 21-32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, unchanged from Wednesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 21-32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.95 13-16, also unchanged.

EDGAR C. ROSSITER

Manager of the insurance department of Pemberton Holmes Limited, has retired after 38 years' service with the company. He is expected to leave Victoria this month to visit relatives in England. Harold Siemann, who joined the firm in 1948, has been appointed new manager of the insurance department.

BONDS UNCHANGED

MONTREAL, Sept. 14 (CP)—Prices were relatively unchanged in all sections in quiet trading on the Montreal bond market today, with the exception of convertible corporate issues, which were strong and active. Dosco's rose two points to 113, while B.A. Oils jumped a point to 21½ bid. Brazilians traded around the 101¾ mark.

Oil in Western Canada Said Likely to Increase

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 13 (CP)—Known oil in Western Canada is likely to increase by several times in the next few years, John R. White of Toronto, executive vice-president of Imperial Oil, Ltd., said today in an address to the United States National Petroleum Association.

Present western production is meeting the oil needs of the prairie provinces and about half those of Ontario, he added, and indicated that British Columbia [illegible] a few years. "It appears that a substantial pipe line, based on supplying British Columbia alone, can be justified."

MAY BE ALTERED

At greater distance than these markets was that of Montreal. At present it was less expensive to supply this market by imports but changing conditions might alter this.

However, Mr. White said, Canadian transportation problems and the strategic needs of the North American continent should be considered in deciding which way Canadian oil should move.

Unless this is done, he added, "we might reach a situation in which Canadians were moving oil eastward, while south of the border Americans were moving oil in a more of less opposite direction."

He said present customs duties between Canada and the United States are not adapted to North American strategic needs.

White, now are estimated at 1,350,000,000 barrels, against 45,000,000 barrels in 1946; and production potential per day at 195,000 barrels, against 19,000 barrels in 1946. At the same time the hunt for more oil has stepped up tremendously.

It is reported that a 11,000-ton bulk sample will be tested soon at United Asbestos as bulls and bears give conflicting reports.

WHAT "JOB-RATED" MEANS

A Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is engineered at the factory to fit a specific job... save you money... last longer. Every unit that SUPPORTS the load — frame, axles, springs, wheels, tires — is engineered right to provide the strength and capacity needed.

Every unit that MOVES the load — engine, clutch, transmission, propeller shaft, rear axle — is engineered right to meet a particular operating condition.

Whether your loads are big or little, heavy or light... your roads paved or rough, level or hilly... there's a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck engineered to fit your job.

If you now have too much power or capacity for your particular job, the surplus is being wasted — operating costs will be high. If you have too little power or capacity, the excess strain on your vehicle will result in heavy maintenance cost.

Those Boston Red Sox stand just three and a half games back of the Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant race today, and just two and a half games back of the second-place New York Yankees.

And with both the Indians and Yankees losing yesterday, the Red Sox, with their second straight extra-inning victory, began to look more and more like trouble in the stretch.

The Red Sox turned back the St. Louis Browns in 10 innings for reliever Ellis Kinder's 10th victory.

Meanwhile, the Yanks took a 9-to-2 pasting from the Detroit Tigers and the Indians lost a night game to Bob Porterfield and the Washington Senators, 1 to 0.

Porterfield allowed just three hits in outpitching Bob Lemon.

CARDS GET SPLIT

The St. Louis Cardinals provided all the action in the National League as, for the first time since 1883, a team played two other teams in one day.

The Cards ripped the New York Giants 6 to 4 in the afternoon, thus thrusting the Giants six full games back of idle Brooklyn in the all-but-finished National League race.

But under the lights the Boston Braves came to town, and Warren Spahn pitched a stunning one-hitter to give them a 2-to-0 victory over the Cards.

Today's probable pitchers:

The Victoria and District Football Association has been unable to solve its parks problem and will be forced to play a double-header at the Lower Beacon Hill grounds Sunday.

The league will officially open its 1951-52 season tomorrow at the same pitch, when Duncan Native Sons and Esquimalt will resume old hostilities. The kick-off is scheduled for 2.30.

Cougars May Do Without Services of Portlanders

Victoria Cougars may have to do without the services of the three players they purchased from the defunct Portland club last week.

General manager Fred Hutchinson stated last night that it was possible that the Cougars would open the P.C.H.L. season on Oct. 5 without defenseman Hugh Sutherland, winger Joe Cluman or goalie Mike Karakas.

Sutherland, settled in Portland and intent on making the most of a good business opportunity, has almost definitely decided to hang up his skates. Cluman, who could have been a big help, is undecided but may yet decide to join the Victoria club. He is building a new home in Portland and is not anxious to leave his home in an unfinished state. However, there were signs that he was wavering in a telephone talk with Hutchinson Wednesday night.

WANTS TOO MUCH

Karakas, who resides at Eveleth, Minn., has put a value on his services which the Cougars feel is a bit out of line. Owner Lester Patrick is in New York and hopes are high that he will be able to complete one of several tentative deals for a goalie to replace the injured Jerry Cournoir. Karakas has never figured too prominently in the Cougars' plans.

Meanwhile, the imminence of the coming season was brought out by Hutchinson's announcement that he leaves Monday for the Cougar training camp at Saskatoon. Accompanying him will be Reg Abbott, who is driving to Victoria from Winnipeg. Bernie Strongman, who has accepted the invitation to try out for the club he captained last season, Joe Medynski, Joe Evans, Andy Hebenton and trainer George Wilkinson.

Eddie Dorohoy will report from his Medicine Hat home, and Jack McIntyre, visiting in Regina, is only a short distance from Saskatoon. Coach Roger Leger, defenseman Joe Lepine, and forward Bob Frampton will arrive by rail from Montreal. Utility player Flori Goegan is at his home in Fort William and is listed as a holdout.

That leaves the Cougars with 10 players but Hutchinson is certain that Montreal Canadiens will supply at least four more before the training season is many days old and has hopes that he will be able to make a purchase of one or two additional players.

That Victoria fans are going to give the Cougars support is evidenced by the record demand for season's tickets. A count yesterday showed 2,009 season tickets holders already listed on the club books. On Oct. 9 last year, the day after the opener, there were 1,030 season ticket holders and only 1,122 when sales were discontinued in January.

Waters Sparks Saanich Squad As Trophy Won

Saanich captured the city peewee box lacrosse championship and the Brock Whitney Trophy by defeating Oak Bay 7-5 at Stevenson Park yesterday. Saanich won the best-of-three series in straight games.

Barry Waters was the hero of the game, scoring Saanich's final four goals. He started his scoring spree with his team trailing 4-3.

Norm Gallant, Tom Collett and Bill Wansbrough were the other scorers for Saanich. Bob Bourke with three, Jack Showers and R. Peterson scored for Oak Bay.

There has been a schedule change for the next week. Saanich and Fernwood will meet in the first game of their best-of-three final for the city bantam championship Tuesday at Stevenson Park at 6. Oak Bay and Fernwood will meet in the second game of a best-of-three series for the juvenile "B" title Monday at 6 at Stevenson Park. Fernwood leads 1-0.

East's Timbermen Seen Worthy Foe For Western Titlist

By JIM TANG

Mann Cup history shows that the home team invariably takes the prized trophy, which is emblematic of Canadian lacrosse supremacy, but Peterborough Timbermen intend to retain for the East the championship won last year by Owen Sound.

In fact, the Timbermen, a team of imports, have three of last season's Mann Cup winners on their star-studded lineup which is expected to give the western champions, either Vancouver Combines or Victoria's Shamrocks, all they can handle.

STEPPED UP

After winning two consecutive Ontario senior "B" titles, the Petes stepped up into senior company three years ago. They finished last in their first season and were erased early in the O.L.A. playdowns last year, but this year's club was put together for the express purpose of going all the way.

There are only four Peterborough players with the Timbermen. The rest are imports from Owen Sound, St. Catharines, Toronto and even B.C.

Three of the Timbermen, goalie Moon Wootton and defensemen Jerry Fitzgerald and Harry Wipper were named to the O.L.A. all-star team this season. Bob Thorpe, who played hockey for Seattle Ironmen in the P.C.H.L. last season, was chosen for the second team.

Wootton is the 24-year-old goal-tending ace of last year's cup winners and is generally rated as without peer at his position in Canadian lacrosse. Wipper, who finished second in O.L.A. scoring this year is originally from McGill University, and Fitzgerald was a track and basketball star at University of Western Ontario.

ALSO HOCKEY PLAYER

Other defensemen are playing-coach Don Crowe, former Toronto Canadian football star and Nip O'Hearn, who played briefly in goal for Vancouver Canucks last season and is one of the four hockey players on the Peterborough line-up.

On the first attacking unit are Thorpe, homebrew Dootch Vitarelli, a scrappy Italian, tricky Arn Dugan, another Peterborough player, and Don Ashbee, who plays hockey for Buffalo.

Ike Hildebrand, former star of New Westminster Salmonbellies, Ross Powless, a big Indian, Curly Mason and Russ Slater form the other attacking combination. Peterborough's Emmett Creighton and Joe Whitnell divide the utility job.

The team is fairly big, fast and has plenty of experience. They are reported to play a hard-checking but clean type of game, drawing few penalties. Only four players can be termed real veterans, the rest are around 24 or 25 years of age.

In addition to Wootton, Mason and Slater are Owen Sound imports. Wipper and Fitzgerald and Wipper were brought in from St. Catharines. Ashbee has played with several O.L.A. clubs. Powless hails from Huntsville, Ont.

Ashbee and Hildebrand may be unable to make the western trip due to their hockey commitments. In this event, the Timbermen plan to bring along two replacements. They could be Denny Peterson, youthful Mimico defenseman, and stocky Tony D'Amico of St. Catharines.

Shamrocks Confident Of Victory

Victoria Shamrocks will leave by plane early this evening for Vancouver and the fourth game of the Inter-City Lacrosse League final with Vancouver Combines confident, but not overly so, that they have found their true stride and hopeful of coming back with a 3-1 edge in the best-of-seven series.

Tonight's game should prove to be one of the hardest-fought of a hard-fought series. Smarting from the 16-5 trouncing administered here Wednesday, Combines can be expected to try and stop the Rocks with a rugged defense. A Victoria win tonight would almost certainly mean elimination from Mann Cup play.

Shamrocks expect to have Norm Baker back in strip but the big winger will only see utility service if club doctor Jack Patterson rules his injured foot sufficiently healed.

PLANS NO CHANGES

Coach Arnold Ferguson, pleased at the way his slightly-revamped line-up performed Wednesday, plans no changes. He will continue to partner Red McMillan on one defense and Darrell Popham will remain, for this game at least, on the attacking unit in Baker's wing position.

Popham, who filled the utility role during the semi-finals and first two games of the final, did a capable job as a full-time player and Ferguson feels there is no need to take unnecessary chances with Baker's injury with his club holding a one-game lead.

Legion XI Fourth Team In Loop Without Sponsor

The Canadian Legion soccer club has become the fourth team in the seven-team Victoria and District Football Association to be without a sponsor.

Sponsored last year by the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, the team elected this season to sponsor themselves. The team will be called the Legion Football Club.

Other teams in the association which are sponsoring themselves are Victoria West, Alcos and Duncan. Those having sponsors are Heaneys, Esquimalt Legion and Victoria City.

EIGHT RETURNING

Legion has eight of last year's players already signed and it expects another former player to join before the season opens.

Returning are Cliff Robbins, Tom Fallon, Alex McCormick, John Moss, Jim Davison, Ken Griffin, Andy Anderson and Dave Main. Len Potter has been attending the workouts but has not signed.

Six newcomers have been signed, five of whom played in various leagues in Scotland and England. They are Harry Carruthers, John and Arnold Vezza and John Spencer who played for amateur clubs in Scotland, Bob Warren who played for an English amateur club, and Tom Smith, big fullback from South Burnaby of the Vancouver and District League.

Legion had signed Jack Robbins but allowed him to transfer to the Victoria United.

MOSS IN GOAL

The team has Moss in goal with Smith and Main at full back. Robbins, McCormick and Fallon will be the halfline. Potter can play either fullback or halfback. Warren, the two Vezza brothers, Carruthers, Griffin, Spencer, Davison and Anderson will vie for the forward positions. Anderson can also play on the halfline.

Smith will coach the team while Malcolm McCaig will remain as manager and Al McHaffie as secretary.

Six Appointed As Delegates To Grid Meet

Six members of the Victoria Canadian Junior Football League were named last night to attend the meeting of delegates of the Vancouver Big Four at Nanaimo Sunday.

The meeting is being held to make final arrangements for forming a British Columbia Football Union. It will be held in the Malaspino Hotel starting at 2.

Those attending from Victoria are M. Rynoski, president of the local loop, R. Pedersen, secretary-treasurer, F.L. W. Dean of the Canadian Services College at Royal Roads, John Warrener of the Oak Bay Goffins, Ray Mitchell of Vampires and Norm Lang of Whitneys.

The Canadian Services College has expressed the desire to play in the Vancouver loop as well as in Victoria. This will probably be discussed during the meeting.

Uplands Final This Afternoon

Mrs. R. L. Pocock and Mrs. F. G. Hope advanced into the final round of the Uplands Golf Club women's "B" championships yesterday.

Mrs. Pocock defeated Mrs. M. Whyte, 7 and 6, while Mrs. Hope downed Mrs. R. Powell, 4 and 2.

They will meet in the 18-hole final at the Uplands course today at 12.45.

Miss M. Milburn and Mrs. D. S. Graham will play off for the first flight honors starting at 12.30.

Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four have announced the acquisition of Glenn Reinhard, 255-pound tackle from Wake Forest College.

Browning Leads Scoring In Lacrosse Playdowns

Archie Browning, Victoria Shamrocks' little howitzer who led the Inter-City Lacrosse League scorers during the season, is now leading the point-getters in the play-offs.

Unofficial statistics showed last night that Browning has 16 goals and seven assists during the play-downs for 23 points. His 16 goals are also tops. Second is teammate Larry Booth, four points back.

Browning is away out in front during the current series with Vancouver Combines. During the three games he has tallied 10 goals and assisted on three others.

Vancouver's Walt Lee is leading the goalies in the play-offs. He has a goals-against percentage of .77 but has only appeared in parts of two games. Victoria's Bill Andrews has a percentage of .73.

Leading scorers, with goals and assists amassed during the final series in brackets, follows:

Sedgman Edges Art Larsen To Make Semis

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13 (INS). — Australia's Frank Sedgman squeaked into the semi-final round of the Pacific Southwest tennis championships today by scoring a narrow 6-1, 5-7, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4 victory over ex-U.S. singles king, Art Larsen.

His opponent on Saturday will be Herb Flam, shunted off the U.S. Davis Cup team in favor of Vic Seixas, who roared back from the edge of defeat to nip Seixas 8-6, 4-6, 8-6, 2-6, 7-5.

Smith Takes First Round At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13 (INS)— Al Smith, the pint-sized pro from Danville, Va., made his only start on the summer golf circuit an auspicious one today when he pounded out a five-under-par 67 to take the first round in the Eastern Open Golf Tournament at Mount Pleasant's sun-baked fairways.

Three golfers tied for second place with 69's. They are Ed (Porky) Oliver, Clayton Heafner, and dark horse Andy Gibson of Baltimore.

The two-under-par 70 bracket included Al Besselink, Mike Rooney, Dave Douglas and Freddy Haas, Jr.

Tied at 71 were Wally Ulrich, Jerry Barber, Cary Middlecoff, Chuck Klein, Lloyd Mangrum, George Fazio, Jim Turnesa and Fred Hawkins.

Rounding out the leaders were par-shooters Jim Ferrier, Larry Glosser, Ralph Lomell, Eddie Johnston, Ted Kroll, Charlie Bassler, Ed Furgol and Avery Beck.

Hunting Legal Tomorrow For Blue Grouse, Pigeons

Despite rumors to the contrary, Vancouver Island's hunting season will open tomorrow with blue grouse and band-tailed pigeons becoming legal targets. Game department officials, checked late last night, denied rumors that the opening would be postponed and said hunting would start as scheduled.

Indications are that hunters might experience considerable difficulty before any wild fowl graces their dinner tables.

According to reports, the grouse supply is plentiful but the birds are going to need a lot of hunting before they fall to hunter's guns. The unusually dry summer caused a scarcity of feed and water and grouse have already started their migration to high timber. They are most likely to be found near water but it is said that they are well scattered and not in large coveys, complicating the problem of the hunter, who is not at all likely to do too well in the thick cover of hills and ridges unless he has a good dog.

Daily Bag Six

The blue grouse season extends from Sept. 15 to Oct. 31 and the willow grouse season from Oct. 13-31. The daily bag limit on grouse is six, of which two may be willow grouse. The season bag limit is 24 in the aggregate and the possession limit is 12, of which only four can be willow grouse. According to Game Warden Bob Sinclair, this means that while a hunter could make a season's kill of either 24 blue or willow grouse, his daily limit on the latter is two.

Band-tailed pigeons may be shot between Sept. 15 and Sept. 30 with a daily bag limit of 10 and a season limit of 50.

Hunters are asked to co-operate with the B.C. Game Department, which has been making a special study of blue grouse in the Quinsam Lake area. In the past two years, James Bendell has banded approximately 200 birds, and hunters who shoot banded blue grouse are requested to get in touch with the local game warden at Campbell River or a member of the Game Department present at the checking station in operation there.

Don't Forget License

Hunters are also reminded not to forget the new Royal Roads Game Reserve or to buy a license before venturing into the woods. The cost is still $3 and licenses may be procured at the Game Department offices at 614 Elliott Street.

Sinclair also reminds that repeating and automatic shotguns must be permanently plugged. Only one shell in the breech and two in the magazine are permitted and there will be prosecutions for all violations this year.

And a final admonition: Be careful.

Prospects are brighter for the deer season which opens Sept. 22 and ends Oct. 21. It is generally agreed that deer are in plentiful supply and that chances of success are the best in some years. The possession limit is one and each licensed hunter will be permitted two for the season. Deer tags are on sale at the Game Department offices and special attention is directed to the new tagging regulation. Kills must be tagged through the base of the tail as soon as they are made.

The good news that ammunition is in good supply in all popular sizes for both shotgun and rifle is tempered by the cost, which is at a new all-time high. The cheapest 12-gauge load is listed at $3.15 and rifle cartridges will cost somewhere between 25 and 30 cents each. At those prices, indiscriminate target practice in the woods will probably be a thing of the past and hunters are more likely to have a good look and get well within range before pulling triggers. Which is a good thing.

Three-Day Cowichan Bay Salmon Derby Plans Set

Plans are complete for the three-day coho derby at Cowichan Bay on October 6, 7 and 8, the most ambitious venture of the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club.

Past-president Lee Hallberg announced yesterday that a total of $750 in cash prizes will be up for competition, and that total value of prizes is $865.

There will be four cash prizes up for daily competition—$100 for the largest coho and $75, $50 and $25 for the next three winners. The contestant landing the largest fish during the three days will have the choice of accepting the $100 daily prize or a radio-phonograph valued at $215.

OPEN TO ALL

Entry fee is one dollar for each day's fishing and the derby is open to all fishermen. It will not be necessary to purchase a club membership.

Fishing will start at 6 a.m. each day and all fish must be in the hands of the official weigher at the Government Wharf by 4 p.m. All prizes will be awarded on the completion of the derby on Monday, October 8.

Contestants will be permitted to use only artificial lures and use of flashers is prohibited. Fish must be caught with rod and reel and all decisions of the tackle committee will be final.

The fishing area will be the waters of Cowichan Bay extending to a line drawn from Hatch Point, on Vancouver Island, to Cape Keppel, on Salt Spring Island, on the east; and all waters of Sansum Narrows to a line drawn from Bold Bluff to Octopus Point, on the west.

Meanwhile, everything is set for tomorrow's fish-off in the annual club ladder derby. Hallberg estimates that 95 of the 100 qualifiers will be on hand to compete for the cash awards. Among the missing will be Cliff Rischell, mayor of Oakland, who reluctantly informed the committee he will be unable to compete.

Fishing will start at 5.30 a.m. and end at 4 p.m., at which time all fish must be in the hands of the official weigher on the government wharf.

No live bait can be used but use of flashers will be permitted.

May Fine Boxing Club For Seating

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (INS). — The New York State Athletic Commission studied the possibility today of levying a fine on the International Boxing Club for "duplicating" ringside rows at last night's Ray Robinson-Randy Turpin championship fight.

Ringside rows were lettered as well as numbered in violation of a commission rule. There were rows labeled "A," "8A," "9A" and "10A" which actually made the fifth row ringside the 12th and the 10th row ringside the 13th.

The extra lettered rows at $50 a seat brought the IBC an estimated $16,000.

Commission chairman Col. Eddie Eagan said he was considering the case to determine what action is to be taken.

Stranded Seamen Protest

Members of the crew of the Canadian government lighthouse tender Estevan claimed last night they were left stranded in Bamfield Wednesday night without any warning that the ship was leaving.

According to Department of Transport officials, Capt. Harry A. Ormiston, skipper of the relevant ship, left the men as a punitive measure after they refused to work overtime.

Dairy Herd, Equipment Go Under Hammer

Endowment for College Seen Reality Next Year

Establishment of an endowment fund for Victoria College should be a matter for study according to Principal John M. Ewing.

In early August a special meeting of high [illegible] and business officials discussed the idea of establishing such a fund as "both practical and desirable."

Monday members of the Victoria College council met to discuss the issue and were warmly in favor of the fund.

A committee has now been appointed to draw up the necessary bill for submission to the legislature in the spring.

Legislation, said Dr. Ewing yesterday, must be obtained before we can set up the fund. Meeting [illegible] will be a first step to obtain public support.

Dr. Ewing thought most of the endowments would come through bequests.

Baskets Come Down Before Royal Tour

Vernon Harknett unhooks one of Victoria's hanging flower baskets at midnight as the city's most noted tourist attractions staff coming down before the city's most noted tourists, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip, get a chance to see them. Toronto Team Clubs Girodays To Annex Cup

CALGARY, Sept. 13 (CP)—Toronto Peoples proved their right to the Canadian softball championship title here tonight with a whopping 17-1 victory over luckless Vancouver Girodays.

A slim crowd of fewer than 800 turned out to watch Toronto squad earn their third straight win in the best-of-five series against the western Canada champions.

"Bunny" Morgan son of The Toronto Telegram, sponsors of the championship, presented the Telegram Trophy, emblematic of Canadian softball supremacy, to the Toronto club.

South, the point-counter, opened the bidding with one diamond, and the auction proceeded: Pass, Pass, Pass. South made precisely six tricks in the play—six top cards and thus lost 100 points on a hand which most bridge players would be extremely gratified to hold. Postmortem analysis revealed that a four-spade contract would have been easy to make, despite the bad breaks in several suits, and thus the real loss on the hand grew from the 100 points to the far more serious dimensions of a missed vulnerable game. An opponent remarked dryly that if North-South had wanted to stop at the one-level, they could at least have landed at no-trump and collect for the 150 aces.

North, not unnaturally, was critical of the fact that South had opened with a mere one-bid, holding such a tremendous number of aces and kings. South countered by saying that in the point-count system, there is virtually no such thing as a two-bid on less than a five-card suit—he stressed the fact that even with a good five-card suit, 25 points are required for a two-bid, and that his hand in this case counted only 25 points, including the allowance of 2 points for the singleton club.

It seems obvious that one of two things is true: either the point-count system is ineffectual in its coverage of four-card suits, or players who use this system apply its precepts too rigidly. Granting that south's holding was not an ideal two-bid, it was certainly advisable to start with two spades so that South with be assured of the chance to show his other suits.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

Garis By Howard

MANY BEAVERS

Uncle Wiggily's Rabbit Scout boy, Buster, stood up in the small sailboat that was cruising on Frog Pond. Buster stood in the front of the boat, holding onto the mast so he wouldn't fall overboard. The sail on the mast was flapping in the wind.

"Buster Longears, you be careful!" called Bunty the orphan rabbit. "Don't you upset the boat, please. I can't swim and neither can my doll, Priscilla. So you be careful!"

"I'll be careful!" promised the Rabbit Scout. "But I want Grandpa Whackum and all the beavers to swim over this way. I want to ask them to help pull daddy's raft out of the shallow water where it has run hard aground. Hi, Granpa Whackum! Grandpa Whackum!" shouted Buster.

"He doesn't seem to hear you," bleated Billie Wagtail, the goat. He and several other animal boys were in the sailboat with Buster and Bunty. They were going for help to get the raft afloat again.

"I'll make him hear me!" shouted Buster. "Hi, Grandpa Whackum! Please swim over this way! I want you to do a favor for daddy!"

The old beaver gentleman still didn't seem to hear what Buster was saying. Once more the Rabbit Scout shouted:

"Hoo-oo! Hi, Granpa Whackum! Please swim this way!"

"Is he coming this way, Buster?" Bunty wanted to know.

"He doesn't seem to be," Buster replied. "I can't make him hear me. And he and the other beavers are swimming so fast that they will soon be out of sight."

"I'll have my doll, Priscilla, play a little music," said Bunty. "When Granpa Whackum hears music he may turn this way."

"Your doll can't play music, Bunty!" barked Jackie Bow Wow.

"Priscilla can so play music!" exclaimed Bunty. "When I wind her up a spring in her back she talks. And when I wind up a spring in her stomach she can play music; can't you Priscilla darlingums sweetie pie?"

"Ess momsie, puddinguns," answered Priscilla.

"I hope that music isn't going to be like that silly baby talk," murmured Buster. He was still holding to the mast and watching Granpa and the many other beavers swimming in Frog Pond. But the beavers were getting farther and farther away from the sailboat. Because there was very little wind now, the boat was just drifting slowly along.

"If I had more wind I could sail right up close to Grandpa Whackum," said Buster. "But there is no wind."

"Why don't you holler again?" asked Peetie Bow Wow.

"I will," answered the Rabbit Scout. Once more he shouted: "Hi, Grandpa Whackum! Please bring your beaver friends this way. We need you to help pull daddy's hard and fast aground raft into deep water so we can sail again. Come this way, Grandpa Whackum!"

"He doesn't hear you, Buster. So I'm going to wind up the spring in Priscilla's stomach and have her play music," said Bunty.

"It won't do any good, but you can try," said Buster.

"Just you wait and see," replied the orphan rabbit. She wound the spring. Then the little phonograph inside the doll began to play music—and quite loud music, too.

Suddenly Grandpa Whackum, who was swimming at the head of the procession of many beavers, turned to one side.

"See, Buster! See!" shouted Bunty. "Grandpa Whackum heard Priscilla's music and he's swimming this way."

"Well, what do you know about that?" exclaimed Bill, the goat.

Now the old gentleman beaver and his friends were swimming toward the sailboat that wasn't sailing because there was no wind. Soon Grandpa Whackum was close beside the boat.

"Oh, hello, Buster!" exclaimed Grandpa Whackum. "What's the matter? Who played that nice music?"

What happened next will be told tomorrow if the leaves of the dining room table don't blow out of the window and hide in the apple tree where the knives and forks can't find them.

Chamber to Stress Rail Charges in Parity Fight

Victoria Chamber of Commerce will stress rail charges in its fight for freight rate parity with Vancouver, a spokesman said yesterday.

He said that although there was little pleasure in the announcement of a 10 per cent boost in ocean freight rates from the west coast on export products, the rail charges were more of a problem.

Victoria shipping agents have not yet been told exactly what the higher ocean rates will be, although most expect the increase will be identical at Victoria and Vancouver.

The chamber is now studying a brief of the Canadian Railway Association given the Board of Transport Commissioners, listing possible rates under the proposed freight rates equalization plan.

MAY BE HIGHER

A Chamber spokesman said preliminary perusal of the brief indicated that Victoria rates might be even higher than at present if the plans are adopted.

The chamber's all-out fight for freight rate parity with Vancouver may be officially joined by the city council. A meeting [illegible] and the chamber's freight rates committee has been delayed because of illness of some members.

Parity with Vancouver was lost when the mountain differential was removed July 1, 1949. At that time an extra 107 miles was charged on shipments to Victoria from Vancouver. The mileage was based from Vancouver to Ladysmith and Ladysmith to Victoria, a spokesman said.

RESOURCEFUL BRIDEGROOM

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (CP)—Driving seas and gales could not keep lighthouse-keeper Colin McLean from his wedding. When a tug failed to reach his post, McLean signaled a passing ship which hove to, picked him up from a small boat and brought him here.

C.C.F. Official Here to Back Frank Mitchell

treasurer of the C.C.F. Party, will arrive in Victoria today to throw his weight behind Frank Mitchell, youthful C.C.F. candidate in the Oct. 1 Esquimalt by-election.

Mr. McDonald, Ernest E. Winch, member for Burnaby, and Mr. Mitchell will address a public meeting tonight in the Esquimalt Athletic Hall.

The meeting will mark the beginning of the C.C.F.'s major bid for the Esquimalt seat.

Other meetings will be held as follows: Sept. 19, Metchosin; featured speakers, E. E. Winch, Mrs. Laura Jamieson, former M.L.A. and member of Vancouver City Council, and Mr. Mitchell.

Sept. 22, Sooke; Arthur Turner, member for Vancouver East, and Mr. Mitchell.

Sept. 26, Luxton; Harold Winch, leader of the Opposition in the Legislature, and Mr. Mitchell.

Sept. 27, Colwood; Harold Winch and Mr. Mitchell.

Final meetings will be held simultaneously the night of Sept. 28 at Langford and Esquimalt. Speakers at both meetings will be Harold Winch, Grant McNeil, B.C. president of the C.C.F. Party, and Frank Mitchell.

Civil Defense, X-Rays, Form Meeting Topics

Civil defense, continuous chest X-ray programs, housing and sanitation in suburban and rural areas are among topics discussed at the semi-annual meeting of medical health officers held during the past three days at the Legislative Buildings.

The meetings, attended by health unit directors, were under chairmanship of Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health, and Dr. J. A. Taylor, deputy provincial health officer.

Almost every area of the province was represented by health unit directors attending.

Machinists Get Wage Increase

A 30-cent hourly pay increase has been won by members of the International Association of Machinists (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) working in two Victoria shops.

The union announced last night that five cents of the boost is retroactive to June 1 and 25 cents retroactive to Aug. 1. Basic rate for machinists, fitters and welders will be $1.85 hourly, helpers $1.65, and tool and die makers $2.05 hourly.

About 15 men are affected at United Engineering Works Ltd. and Hafer Machine Co. Ltd. The wage boost sets the pattern for some 60 other workers in other shops.

Conciliation officer W. T. McLaughlin assisted in the negotiations.

Curbs Eased On Mail Trains

BERLIN, Sept. 13 (Reuters)—East German restrictions on west-bound mail trains from West Berlin were reported today to have been eased for the first time in nearly two weeks.

West Berlin postal authorities said that all 36 mail cars for West Germany passed through the inter-zonal border check-point at Marienborn last night without hindrance.

But eight of 23 Berlin-bound mail cars from Hanover were turned back.

In the last two weeks East German police have sent back cars from both directions because they said they were "overpacked" and could not be properly checked.

JURISTS LAMENT

PORT TALBOT, Wales (CP)—A leaking roof brought reminiscences from county judge Temple Morris. "During the last 10 years," he said, "I have presided at court with whooping cough; I've ridden to court in a hearse when my car broke down—and I am now, it seems, establishing a record by sitting under a waterfall."

Tickets to Sportsmen's Show Free for Knowing License Number

Victoria housewives should start memorizing the family car's license number.

If they know the number, they might be one of the lucky 100 to win free tickets to the mammoth Sportsmen's Show being held in the Memorial Arena Sept. 20 to 22.

The show, sponsored by the Lions Club of Esquimalt, is the first of its kind ever to be staged here.

Special feature of the show is the world's largest portable tank, which holds 75,000 gallons of water. It will be used for log burling and block turning events, dog retrieving, bait and fly-casting demonstrations, a canoe tilting contest and a bathing beauty fashion review.

Part of the daily show will be a fisherman trying to land a swimmer on ordinary tackle.

The $11,000 show will feature booths displaying some of the finest sporting equipment on the continent.

Of special interest to Victorians will be the booth sponsored by The Colonist where blind one-armed boat builder Arthur Barnes will be shown working on a new boat.

Other attractions will include an all-Scots fashion show, and an aquacade staged by Archie McKinnon of the "Y."

Susan Hayward Back From Tyee Expedition

Jess Barker had camera trouble yesterday.

But as Jess described the photographic difficulties he landed in at Campbell River, his wife — Hollywood's flame-haired Susan Hayward — discussed fish and the fine art of angling with Colonist cameraman Bud Kinsman.

Said Bud: "I hear the season's good up there."

Replied Susan: "It certainly is, but we didn't get any of the big ones."

Jess talked about his camera. Bing Crosby beat them to it with a king-size tyee last week—and added that it was hard work to get up early in the morning and go out after the elusive salmon.

TIRED SIREN

A super-siren on the screens, Susan looked pretty tired after a 12-day bout with king salmon. But both the Barkers figure that the salmon are here—it's just a matter of getting them to hook onto the line.

Their twin sons did a good job of hadling them in.

"They caught a trout one day," said Susan, adding that the youngsters are on their way to be coming topnotch anglers.

Both Jess and Susan are convinced that another trip to the island will be worth it—they figure to catch the ones that got away from Crosby.

Opposition To Premier Gets Leader

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 13 (AP) — A pro-western Iranian politician today emerged from retirement to lead growing opposition to nationalistic Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and his anti-British oil policy.

He is Seyid Zia Ed-Din Tabatabale, 62, who served as premier for three months after leading a coup d'etat 30 years ago. He launched his fight to depose Mossadegh by reopening headquarters of his Eradeye Melli (National Will) Party, dormant six years.

In a speech, Seyid Zia accused Mossadegh government leaders of following a creed "of instigating and encouraging the killing of their political opponents." He promised free speech, more equitable taxation and land reform.

On the subject of oil nationalization, he parried newspaper men's questions, saying "oil has been nationalized — nothing can be done without parliamentary approval."

British spokesmen here feel that Seyid Zia, while not planning to cancel the popular nationalization law, would adopt a more moderate policy. They feel he might agree to British management of the oil fields and resumption of operations which have been at a standstill for two and one-half months.

Seyid Zia's chances of becoming premier are debatable, but are improving as the economic crisis becomes more acute.

Loss of Butter Sale "Unfortunate"

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP) — New Zealand missed selling Canada a few million pounds of butter through an unfortunate turn of events, Trade Minister C. D. Howe said tonight.

He outlined briefly recent discussions in Ottawa with W. Marshall, chairman of the New Zealand dairy produce marketing commission, over the purchase of New Zealand butter by Canada.

Altogether, the government is importing 10,000,000 pounds — 7,000,000 from Europe and 3,000,000 from New Zealand—to offset a possible shortage next winter.

Private trade has been allowed to import 4,500,000 pounds, giving Canada a total of 14,500,000 pounds over Canadian production.

The private trade contracts are with certain European countries. The trade was given import permits because contracts had been government took control of the imports of butter.

"New Zealand, in accordance with the wishes of Canadian authorities, did not offer butter to the trade at that time and, as a result, as events subsequently developed, lost the opportunity of participating in this business," the statement said.

"It is agreed that the turn of events was unfortunate for New Zealand."
